Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 8-28 allowed.
2. Claims 2-6 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior art failed to establish the required doping level difference with respect to the spacers around the fin bodies.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1 and 7 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by

Fried et al. (2003/0193058)

Regarding Claims 1 and 7, Fried et al. disclose an integrated circuit with capacitors having fin structure where in Fig. 7b, a first fin structure 206 and 212 on the left and the second fin structure 206 on the right have first spacer 210 and second spacers 210 respectively. The spacer on the right cover a larger percentage of the fin structure they belong to compared to the fin structure in the left. Furthermore, spacers 210 on the left and right comprise the same material.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.
